

Water introduction systems development

- Wetpac humidification system extensively tested in shipboard prototype installation as well as in lab engine endurance tests
- Further concept and design improvements on the basis of the feedback from the tests
- Implementation of associated modifications in 2nd generation prototype, further tests in preparation
- Shipboard integration of DWI system for field test in preparation
- Design and development of DWI system, including extensive simulations close to completed
- Manufacturing of components in progress